RUNNING HIM

Two actions most turns. Spend the first closing — everything he is good at happens inside one metre, and Reach +1 means he swings first.

Fists are the default: 19M Stun drops people without killing them. The spurs (18L Physical) mean he has decided.

Intelligence 2, Willpower 1 — he misses things and resists spells badly. He is the hammer, not the eyes. And he cannot read: hand him a picture, or nothing.

His niece. Nine and a half feet of troll muscle — which is to say a perfectly ordinary size for a troll, and a head shorter than her uncle.

THE CHARACTER

Old. Old enough that most trolls his age are dead or settled, and he is neither. Mel lives alone in a comfortable cave a long way from any sprawl, comes into the city when someone needs a door removed, and goes home again. Well over three metres — enormous even by troll standards, and used to not fitting through things.
